DE-STA-CO Names Director, IT

BOULDER—December 6, 2010. White Lake Partners is pleased to announce that its client, DE-STA-CO Industries, has appointed Greg Stewart as Director, Information Technology.

Mr. Stewart most recently served with Inalfa Roof Systems, one of the world's largest designers and manufacturers of sunroofs and open-roof systems for Tier 1 automotive companies. Inalfa is headquartered in the Netherlands with facilities in the United States, Italy, South Korea, China, Brazil and Japan. Over the course of nearly 15 years with Inalfa, Mr. Stewart progressed through IT roles of increasing responsibility, ultimately serving as IT Manager for North America. Prior to this, he enjoyed a ten year career with Walbro Automotive in various technical and information technology positions. Mr. Stewart earned a BS, Business Administration & Managing Information Systems, from Michigan Technological University.

Innovations, quality and acquisitions have made DE-STA-CO the worldwide leader in the design, manufacture and support of clamping, gripping, transferring and robotic tooling solutions for workplace and flexible automation needs. It is an operating unit of Dover Corporation, a $6 billion, publicly-traded and well-regarded global manufacturing concern. Learn more at www.dover.com
